EDUCATIONAL WORK, 2012-13

Artist-in-Residence at Queen's University Belfast in 2012-13: Clare has made three extended visits over the academic year. Each of these comprises:

- a solo piano recital featuring a work by a composer associated with the university.
- masterclasses with UG singers and instrumentalists
- workshops with PG composition students
- individual tuition for UG and PG pianists
- ongoing discussions with a third-year dissertation student researching 19th-century pianism.
- group classes with children aged 4-13 at the Junior Academy of Music.

Lectures on her recently completed doctoral research on twentieth-century left-hand piano concertos at Oxford, Manchester and Surrey Universities.

Recitals and performance workshops at City University London and Nottingham University, and a recital with composition workshop at Cardiff University.

Small-group academic supervisions for Nicholas Cook's "Studying Music as Performance" course with third-year undergraduate students at Cambridge University.

TESTIMONIAL

"Clare Hammond is an immense asset; she combines fearless capability with apparently unlimited diplomacy. Her versatility has embraced sight-reading student compositions from undergraduate to PhD level (often recorded), coaching pianists, discussing historical research and enchanting small children with an introduction to the piano. At the heart of her comprehensive package, though, is her transcendental insight and technique as a pianist."

Professor Piers Hellawell, Queen's University Belfast

"...finely honed musicality of approach... Hammond recalls both Myra Hess and Annie Fischer, great Beethoven pianists of bygone generations... thoughtful and discerning, focused constantly on the music itself, searching out its deeper significances and inner verities."
