PRESS

"displayed its scintillating passagework and poetic calm with great flair"
The Guardian, Cheltenham Festival, Rian Evans

*"... Most impressive, though, was her natural sense of pacing, allowing the hollowed-out climax of Pour les Arpèges Composées to gather like a wisp of smoke in sunlight before dissipating in a passing breeze."*
The Guardian, Purcell Room, Guy Dammann

Listen to excerpts from Clare's performance of Ravel's 'Tombeau' at:

www.clarehammond.com/live-in-concert.html

The first programme opens with Bach's imposing Toccata in D minor which is followed by Beethoven's uplifting and optimistic Sonata in E flat major. In the second half, Ravel's elegant and poised Sonatine contrasts strongly with the lively wit of Mendelssohn's Andante and Rondo Capriccioso and the sombre dignity of Rachmaninov's Variations. Based on a well known Baroque dance melody by Corelli, the latter is an enduringly popular work.

The second programme pairs movements from Couperin's Pièces de Clavecin with Ravel's Le Tombeau de Couperin, written in a neo-classical style as an eighteenth-century dance suite and dedicated to friends who were killed during the First World War. Sibelius's Impromptus form an intriguing and imaginative interlude. The second half opens with two sets of Mazurkas, by Polish composer Szymanowski and British composer Thomas Adès. Medtner's intense Sonata Romantica brings the programme to a passionate close.

"In Ravel's Tombeau de Couperin, the pianist was likewise in full expressive command of her fingers, conveying the swirling shimmer and sweet melancholy of a work that veers between elegance and emotion."

Conrad Wilson, Herald Scotland

"skill, inspiration, clarity and an extraordinarily meticulous performance"

This programme is comprised primarily of French music, opening with a selection of pieces from Couperin's Pièces de Clavecin and closing with Ravel's tribute to his predecessor, Le Tombeau de Couperin. Liszt's 'Les jeux d'eaux à la Villa d'Este' portrays the fountains at the Villa d'Este, just outside Rome, and was the direct inspiration for Ravel's Jeux d'eau, featured in the second half. In 1920, just after Debussy's death, a series of pieces by his contemporaries were written in tribute to the composer and published in the Revue Musicale. This programme includes contributions from Paul Dukas, Albert Roussel and Florent Schmitt. Ravel's Sonatine provides an elegant close to the first half whereas Debussy's Estampes takes us to more exotic climes.
